

Activity one: give each sentence its type (simple/compound/complex/ compound complex)

1. I did not know that this food was meant only for the staff. Complex sentence
2. She is innocent, so she has appealed to the court. Compound sentence
3. If you are not ready with the song, it is better to let them know. Complex sentence
4. She will come home or I will stay back at her place. Compound sentence
5. In the evening, I am going to the park. Simple sentence
6. The sun looks amazing today. Simple sentence

Activity two : put the verb between brackets in its correct form (conditional type).

1. If I were you, I wouldn't risk.
2. If he decides to accept that job, he will regret (regret) it for the rest of his life.
3. It's quite simple really. When it's cold, water freezes .
4. If they had waited another month, they could probably have gotten a better price for their house.

Activity three:

1. identify the sentence error.

2. Which one does not imply an error ?

- I love this new Dave Matthews Band record it is like eating an entire loaf of bread. Run on
- Went home in a fit of anger. fragment
- Sentences come in many shapes and sizes. This sentence is correct